What do you need to know?

Fostering a guide dog is an amazing experience but might not be right for everyone. So before you apply, run through this quick checklist to make sure it's right for you:

- Do you have a car to drop the guide dog off in the morning and pick them up again in the evening?
- Do you live nearby to one of the Guide Dogs centres to take them to training?
- Could you provide a loving home for a maximum of 6 months?
- Do you have enough space to look after a guide dog in your home?
- Are you prepared to use our guidelines to help raise a future guide dog to help someone with sight loss?

We will be right beside you!

You'll be paired with a dedicated volunteer manager to help you along every step of the way. You will also be given training to help understand the basics of dog handling and grooming. Alongside these tools, there is a big community of volunteer Fosterers who are happy to share advice and top tips with you on your journey. And we'll be with you every step of the way.

Foster a life-changer!

Be a dog lover, looking to give something back, we could be looking for you. Become a part of the Guide Dogs Family and help support guide dogs in training, by providing them with the support and care they need to become a life-changer.

What do our dogs need?

Our dogs need people who can provide them with a loving home and ensure it's safe, stable and full of love. We'll cover all the dog's food and veterinary costs, ensuring you get all the benefits of having a dog without the added cost. Becoming a Fosterer can teach you new skills in dog handling or provide extra training, so we can give you the opportunity to meet new people. Ultimately, nothing beats the rewarding feeling of knowing you have played a pivotal role in helping to create a life-changing guide dog partnership.

What will we give you in return?

Fostering a guide dog can provide you with a range of benefits, such as helping with work, learning and getting out of the house. We'll cover all the dog's food and veterinary costs, ensuring you get all the benefits of having a dog without the added cost. Gillian and Colin became fosterers 15 years ago and have since fostered dozens of future life-changers. Colin drops the dog off at training school on his way to work each day and collects them on his way home.

"Fostering guide dogs was the perfect solution for us. It meant our daughter could get to experience taking care of a dog, but without the expense that comes with owning one."
